

The five finalists for the 2015 Information Book Award are:

Before the World Was Ready: Stories of Daring Genius in Science

by Claire Eamer. Annick Press, 978-1-55451-535-6

Follow Your Money

by Kevin Sylvester and Michael Hlinka. Annick Press, 978-1-55451-480-9

Looks Like Daylight

by Deborah Ellis. Groundwood Books, 978-1-55498-120-5

Pay It Forward Kids: Small Acts, Big Change

by Nancy Runstedler. Fitzhenry & Whiteside, 978-1-55455-301-3

Pedal It! How Bicycles are Changing the World

by Michelle Mulder. Orca Book Publishers, 978-1-45980219-3

Thank you to all the Roundtables that participated in this first round of voting, and especially to outgoing Information Book Award Chair Samantha Fraenkel, who handled the duties up to this point.

Balloting will take place between now and October 31, 2014. The winner and honour book will be announced the evening of November 17, 2014, in Vancouver.

The VCLR community is urged to submit votes for their favourite title to Information Book Award Chair, Kay Weisman, by email. Ballots will also be available at the Illustrators Breakfast on October 18th.